Bureau of Underground Storage Tank Regulations (BUSTR) Class A & B Operator Training

The Federal Energy Policy Act of 2005 mandates requirements for Underground Storage Tank systems (UST) within the United States and its Territories. One of the many provisions in the Energy Policy Act mandated that Operator Training be conducted for owners and/or operators, designated owner representatives and station managers and/or clerks. On September 1, 2011, Ohio Administrative Code (OAC) rule 1301:7-9-19 Underground Storage Tank Operator Training became effective. This rule defines operator training requirements and procedures.

This training incorporates the new 2015 UST Operating Regulations, which was effective October 2018.

All students successfully completing this training course will receive a certificate of training for Class A and Class B operators.
