SAFETY TIP OF THE MONTH

July is UV Safety Awareness Month, Stressing Skin Care during Summer

With summer heat here to stay, it's important to protect skin from the sun's harmful UV rays. According to the Skin Cancer Foundation just five sunburns can double the risk of melanoma, one of the most dangerous forms of skin cancer. The Skin Cancer Foundation recommends applying sunscreen, seeking shade during peak sun hours and covering up with clothing, wide-brimmed hats and UV-blocking sunglasses.
