Certified Environmental, Health & Safety Trainer PREP COURSE

July 1 - July 2, 2019

The requirements to obtain a Certified Environmental, Safety and Health Trainer (CET) credential are changing as of May 23, 2019. The new pre-requisites are:

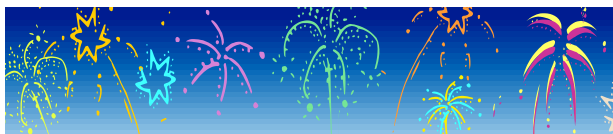

- 135 hours of teaching, training, or development in any SH&E specialty
- Passing the CET examination

This change has allowed the Safety Council of Northwest Ohio to offer a CET prep course designed to prepare qualified candidates for the CET soon to be CIT exam.

This practical hands-on course will describe the approaches of needs analysis, task analysis, and performance objectives that are used to design training; lesson plans, delivery and assessment techniques; and the validation and documentation of training programs. The course is designed for compliance with the ANSI Z-490 standard and participants are eligible to sit for the National Environmental Training Association CET or CIT exam.
